

ISSUES NEXT YEAR

Prohibition and Mothers' Pensions Paramount in Nation.

Governor Capper Says They Will Be Forced to Front.

WILL BE MADE NATION-WIDE

Questions Will Be Crowded Into the National Campaign.

On a Nonpartisan Basis, Declares the Governor.

National prohibition and mother's pension legislation will be the big national and state issues in the 1916 campaign, according to the prediction of Governor Capper. These measures will be forced to the front with the party controversy concerning the tariff, monetary issues and the foreign policy of the national administration, the Kansas governor believes.

In a letter to Otto Feely, a mother's pension advocate of Oak Park, Ill., Governor Capper declares his belief in prohibition and mother's pension demands will be crowded into the campaign as non-partisan issues. The governor points to the fact that nineteen states now have prohibitory liquor laws, while mother's pension legislation has been enacted in twenty-six states. The Kansas governor believes that in the next campaign an effort will be made to make the two reforms nationwide.

The Governor's Letter.

Next year will be a year of elections, a year of partisan strife; party lines will be drawn on the question of tariff, the monetary situation, the domestic and foreign policy of the present administration and many other problems of nation-wide import. There are two issues, however, which will enter into the campaign which will not draw their supporters nor their opponents from the ranks of any one political organization. They are both non-partisan in character and national in scope.

One is the national prohibition of the traffic in intoxicating liquors. The other is the question of mother's pensions, the enactment by all states of laws authorizing the extension of state aid to needy widows and mothers. Both of these issues or movements are based upon the same principle—the broad, humanitarian principle of the strengthening and preservation as a unit of the greatest of American institutions—the home. And both are equally deserving of support.

Prohibition seems to remove from society—from the home—the damnable influence of the saloon. It hopes to put forever from the youth the temptations and pitfalls which surround the grog-shop and to drive alcoholism from the home, which without such baneful influence would be happy and prosperous. It hopes to insure to every child the right to be born free from the taint of alcoholism.

It is a life saver. The mother's pension is the life saver of the poor widow and mother, the straw at which she grasps when, through death or other cause, she is deprived of the support of the husband and father in providing for the family. She may be left in destitute circumstances to cope with a situation which is her inexperience she cannot hope to meet successfully. It is then that the horror of the situation, the agonizing hours of the poorhouse; she sees her children torn from her and scattered all among state institutions, there to receive care at the hands of public servants which at best can only be perfunctory. However kind and tender the servants of our institutions may be in their ministrations, they must fall far short of filling the place of the mother. It has been shown that a mother can care for her own children and rear them in the midst of all the influences of home training for less money, and infinitely better, than the state can perform the same service perfunctorily.

No I believe it is here, then, that the state should step in, not wholly from an economic standpoint as well. I believe the state has done less than its full duty when it does not provide every destitute mother with the means and opportunity to rear her children under the best possible home influences, that she may in return reciprocate by giving to the state true, upright, patriotic citizens, acknowledging their obligation to their state and anxious to fulfill it.

Nineteen states now have prohibitory, twenty-six states have passed mother's pension legislation. Both movements go hand in hand, aiming at the same goal, and I believe it is only a question of a comparatively short time when every state in the Union, and the nation as a whole, will recognize the justice of their principles and the great part they will play in the up-building of citizenship.

"I beg you to sell me," warbled daughter from the parlor. "You sang mother from the kitchen. You want to help me with the dish-cloth." And then a profound silence reigned.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

"Pa, what is affection?" "Affection, my boy, is carrying three extra tires on an automobile that never gets more than four blocks away from a garage."—Detroit Free Press.

"September is such a restful period." "How so?" "Some of your friends are out of the house as yet, those that are home are mostly under cover."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

THE "COME-BACK"

The "come-back" man was really never down-and-out. His weakened condition, because of over-work, lack of exercise, improper eating and living, demands stimulation to satisfy the cry for a health-giving appetite and the refreshing sleep essential to strength. GOLD MEDAL Harlem Oil Capsules, the National Remedy of Holland, will do the work. They are wonderful! Three of these capsules each day will put a man on his feet before he knows it; whether his trouble comes from uric acid poisoning, the kidneys, gravel or stone in the bladder, stomach derangement or other ailments that befall the over-taxed American. Don't wait until you are entirely down-and-out, but take them today. Your druggist will gladly refund your money if they do not help you. 25c, 50c and $1.00 per box. Accept no substitutes. Look for the name GOLD MEDAL on every box. They are the pure, original, guaranteed Harlem Oil Capsules—Advertisement.

HE HOPES TO BRING AMERICAS' BIRDMEN CLOSER TOGETHER

Prohibition and Mothers' Pensions Paramount in Nation.

Governor Capper Says They Will Be Forced to Front.

WILL BE MADE NATION-WIDE

Questions Will Be Crowded Into the National Campaign.

On a Nonpartisan Basis, Declares the Governor.

National prohibition and mother's pension legislation will be the big national and state issues in the 1916 campaign, according to the prediction of Governor Capper. These measures will be forced to the front with the party controversy concerning the tariff, monetary issues and the foreign policy of the national administration, the Kansas governor believes.

In a letter to Otto Feely, a mother's pension advocate of Oak Park, Ill., Governor Capper declares his belief in prohibition and mother's pension demands will be crowded into the campaign as non-partisan issues. The governor points to the fact that nineteen states now have prohibitory liquor laws, while mother's pension legislation has been enacted in twenty-six states. The Kansas governor believes that in the next campaign an effort will be made to make the two reforms nationwide.

The Governor's Letter.

Next year will be a year of elections, a year of partisan strife; party lines will be drawn on the question of tariff, the monetary situation, the domestic and foreign policy of the present administration and many other problems of nation-wide import. There are two issues, however, which will enter into the campaign which will not draw their supporters nor their opponents from the ranks of any one political organization. They are both non-partisan in character and national in scope.

One is the national prohibition of the traffic in intoxicating liquors. The other is the question of mother's pensions, the enactment by all states of laws authorizing the extension of state aid to needy widows and mothers. Both of these issues or movements are based upon the same principle—the broad, humanitarian principle of the strengthening and preservation as a unit of the greatest of American institutions—the home. And both are equally deserving of support.

Prohibition seems to remove from society—from the home—the damnable influence of the saloon. It hopes to put forever from the youth the temptations and pitfalls which surround the grog-shop and to drive alcoholism from the home, which without such baneful influence would be happy and prosperous. It hopes to insure to every child the right to be born free from the taint of alcoholism.

It is a life saver. The mother's pension is the life saver of the poor widow and mother, the straw at which she grasps when, through death or other cause, she is deprived of the support of the husband and father in providing for the family. She may be left in destitute circumstances to cope with a situation which is her inexperience she cannot hope to meet successfully. It is then that the horror of the situation, the agonizing hours of the poorhouse; she sees her children torn from her and scattered all among state institutions, there to receive care at the hands of public servants which at best can only be perfunctory. However kind and tender the servants of our institutions may be in their ministrations, they must fall far short of filling the place of the mother. It has been shown that a mother can care for her own children and rear them in the midst of all the influences of home training for less money, and infinitely better, than the state can perform the same service perfunctorily.

No I believe it is here, then, that the state should step in, not wholly from an economic standpoint as well. I believe the state has done less than its full duty when it does not provide every destitute mother with the means and opportunity to rear her children under the best possible home influences, that she may in return reciprocate by giving to the state true, upright, patriotic citizens, acknowledging their obligation to their state and anxious to fulfill it.

Nineteen states now have prohibitory, twenty-six states have passed mother's pension legislation. Both movements go hand in hand, aiming at the same goal, and I believe it is only a question of a comparatively short time when every state in the Union, and the nation as a whole, will recognize the justice of their principles and the great part they will play in the up-building of citizenship.

"I beg you to sell me," warbled daughter from the parlor. "You sang mother from the kitchen. You want to help me with the dish-cloth." And then a profound silence reigned.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

"Pa, what is affection?" "Affection, my boy, is carrying three extra tires on an automobile that never gets more than four blocks away from a garage."—Detroit Free Press.

THE "COME-BACK"

The "come-back" man was really never down-and-out. His weakened condition, because of over-work, lack of exercise, improper eating and living, demands stimulation to satisfy the cry for a health-giving appetite and the refreshing sleep essential to strength. GOLD MEDAL Harlem Oil Capsules, the National Remedy of Holland, will do the work. They are wonderful! Three of these capsules each day will put a man on his feet before he knows it; whether his trouble comes from uric acid poisoning, the kidneys, gravel or stone in the bladder, stomach derangement or other ailments that befall the over-taxed American. Don't wait until you are entirely down-and-out, but take them today. Your druggist will gladly refund your money if they do not help you. 25c, 50c and $1.00 per box. Accept no substitutes. Look for the name GOLD MEDAL on every box. They are the pure, original, guaranteed Harlem Oil Capsules—Advertisement.

SNAP SHOTS

AT HOME NEWS

The Bates restaurant at 810 Kansas avenue has been closed for repairs. Miss Irma Sticker, 304 West Twelfth street, left today for Kansas City, Mo., to visit her parents.

Miss May Graham, deputy register of deeds, will return Tuesday from a Christmas trip to Chicago.

Miss Marcel Clark of Stormont hospital returned from Herington, Kan., today where she spent Christmas.

Mrs. E. J. Callahan, assistant secretary of the Provident association, is ill at her home at 211 East Eighth street.

E. D. Kelleman, city editor, and V. E. Bundy of the Manhattan Daily Nationalist, visited Topeka friends Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. Lillian Moore, of the Provident association, has been spending the week-end with her mother at Baxter Springs, Kan.

"White Gifts for the King," a new musical service, was sung last night at the First Methodist church by the Sunday school members.

No meeting of the Current Topic club will be held this evening at the Central Y. M. C. A. The next session will be held January 10, 1916.

Mrs. Jonathan Thomas will entertain the Ladies' Missionary society of the First Presbyterian church Wednesday afternoon at her home at 515 Harrison street.

Several additional voices helped the choir sing "The Christ Child" at the English Lutheran church Sunday evening. The Christmas cantata was written by Knight.

John Boggs has resigned from the staff of the railroad Y. M. C. A. Mr. Boggs has been attending Washburn college in addition to carrying on his Y. M. C. A. work.

The "U" girls of the First English Lutheran church will hold a social and business meeting this evening at the home of Miss Mildred Tinker, 1329 North Madison street.

The N. U. M. S. of June, 1914, a former Topeka high school organization, will give a spread Wednesday afternoon at the home of Miss Icie Wright, at 834 Lane street.

W. E. Dillon, formerly a resident of Topeka and now living at Wellington, Kan., spent December 25 at the home of his sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Klene, 1120 Harrison street.

Redden chapel will celebrate Christmas this evening at the building on First street. The chapel is maintained by the First Presbyterian church. The Rev. J. H. Fazel is pastor.

The young people of St. Mark's A. M. E. church will give "A Feast in the Church" next Wednesday evening. Night school classes at the Railroad Y. M. C. A. have all been postponed until after New Year's.

Illustrated songs were shown at the First Congregational church last evening. The choir, congregation, and several individuals sang. The Rev. A. S. Henderson had charge of the stereopticon.

The W. C. T. U. will hold a dramatic and reading contest at the First Presbyterian church, Wednesday evening. The program will commence at 7:30 and is to be held in the Sunday school auditorium.

The church was finished on the Bob Johnson tabernacle Christmas day and the remaining inside work will be done before the week is over. Every seat will be in place January 2 when the evangelist starts his meetings.

A reunion of the January, 1910, class of the Topeka high school will be held Tuesday, December 28, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy C. Petro, 714 Tyler street. All members of the class in this city are cordially invited.

A Christmas tree is being used for a parlor light by a family on West Sixth street. It shone like a carnival. The children liked it so well that it has not been torn down but is lighted during the dark part of every day and evening.

Only six sick transients are at the Provident association now in spite of the cold weather. It is an indication that most of transients has moved southward to Texas or Louisiana.

There was much more sickness at the building last fall.

The new district superintendent, created by the synod of the English Lutheran church last fall, has been filled by the Rev. Dr. H. A. Ott, who will arrive in Topeka to take up his duties next week. Dr. Ott was formerly a Topeka pastor and will live here with his family.

Invitations are being sent out by the Y. W. C. A. for an open house party which will be held New Year's day. The hours are from 3 to 5 o'clock. Basketball and volleyball games will start at 4. The purpose of the entertainment is to get more young Topeka people interested in the work that is being carried on.

William R. Arthur, formerly dean of the law school of Washburn college, is visiting his brother, C. B. Arthur, at 728 Kansas avenue. Mr. Arthur is at present in the law school of the University of Colorado at Boulder. He will go on to Chicago to attend a law conference before returning to Colorado.

Nominations of officers for the church council will take place this evening at the December session of the English Lutheran church. The nominations will be voted upon next week. The 1915 officers are: The Rev. M. F. Troxell, president; B. F. Younger, secretary, and A. V. Lindell, treasurer.

The meeting will begin at 7:30 o'clock. He ran all the way to the Provident association when he missed his five dollar bill. A 200-pound man left one lying neatly in a conspicuous place after a night's lodging at the association. The officials didn't know whether he was a Santa Claus or not until nearly noon when he almost broke down the stairway coming for his money.

Rollo James Fisher, seven, colored, and much excited dropped into a barber shop Saturday. In one arm he carried a bundle of State Journals; in the other a sack of candy, fruit and a small tin trumpet. "Heads 'o' State Journals, sah—Jews see wot I got, sah! Wab did I get um?" Dean Know, sah, but they's putty nice—putty nice." Rollo James had attended the Elks' Christmas tree party and was voicing his thanks.

Many Christmas sermons were preached last night at Topeka churches. The Rev. J. K. Youngman, pastor of the East Side Methodist church, preached on "Good Tidings of Great Joy," the Rev. E. W. Spencer of the Walnut Grove church, spoke on "The Star of Hope," and O. L. Cook, pastor of the First Christian church had as a sermon subject "Life's Pilgrimage." The Rev. R. P. McPherson preached on "The World and the Use We Should Make of It This Year" at the Central Park Christian church. The Rev. L. H. Backhold of the Central Christian church, used the subject "Following the Star." Tabernacles, scripture, and song illustrated "Good Will to Men" at the Central Congregational church last night.

Christmas was brought to Topeka children by the dormitory members of the Central Y. M. C. A. Secretary George A. Hoyer and H. A. Junk met their guests at Redden chapel and took them to the Central building in Charles Wierman's automobile. Here a Santa Claus and Christmas tree awaited them. Among the children present were: Anna Weeks, Maud Briggs, Jacob Zeigman, Louis Cooper, Edgar Patrick, Ethel Burkhead, Norma Cooper, Edgar Myers, Ray Jackson, Dorothy McMillan, Rowland Goodwin, Frances Nichols, Edward Simmons, Ada Potter, Anna Thomas, Frank Weeks, Oswald Briggs, Mina Zeigman, Charles Cunningham, Arthur Weeks, Add Truesdale, Rebecca Zeigman, Mar Emory, Ray Myers and Helen Cooper.

General Dodge III. Council Bluffs, Dec. 27. General Grenville M. Dodge, is reported critically ill at his home here. It is said that he never has fully recovered from an operation he underwent about a year ago. He is 84 years old.

AT THE THEATERS

At Grand New Year's.

"The Winning of Barbara Worth," the thrilling novel by Harold Bell Wright which has had two million readers, has been given a big scenic production by the Barbara Worth Company, Inc. The transplanting of the story to the stage is a play with sand storms, the true tints of harmonies of landscape, is an artistic triumph, while the visualization of the western characters with the varied shades of the pioneer mind, the pioneer will and the pioneer conscience, is vivid. The dramatization consists of a prologue and three acts by Mr. Mark E. Swan. It will be presented at the Grand New Year's.

Kick In.

When Willard Mack wrote "Kick In," which is now produced at the Grand for one night, Monday, January 3, he was clever enough to include a wrestling match, knowing the heart of man loves a good struggle—and a good struggle it is, for Norman Hackett, who plays the leading part, is built along decorated athletic lines and puts up a genuine fight with Stanley Jonasson—Frank Gotch and Jess Willard couldn't put up a prettier exhibition. "Kick In" is a play with a punch, which readily accounts for its remarkable New York success, and the popularity it is enjoying on the road.

At the Orpheum.

Joe Weber and Lew Fields break into society in ludicrous fashion in the Trixie-Kaystone comedy, "The Best of Enemies," which will appear at the Orpheum theater today, tomorrow and Wednesday.

Hip Review.

The Oliver Players—introduced to Topeka theater patrons for the first time Christmas matinee and night at the Hip theater—are giving a creditable production of "Help Wanted," play dealing with the problems of the modern stenographer.

Snap and sizzle characterize the work of the cast and the play "kicks over" in fine style. Miss Leon, who carries the leading role, makes a clever and sophisticated triple play. Mr. Knorr, as the boss, does a good piece of work. Miss Welby's character of Mrs. Meyers, the washerwoman, was one of the hits of the piece. She did her work well and with emphasis. The entire cast is well balanced.

Special scenery was used in the production and taking it all in all "Help Wanted" as staged by the Oliver Players was all that could be asked for. "Help Wanted" will be shown until Thursday when the company will open in "The Lure," a white slave play featuring the reputation of the Rockefeller white slave commission. This play is said to be the truest representation of the vice traffic in this country that was ever produced. Next week "Today" will be one of the offerings.

Such plays as "Nearly Married," "Seven Keys to Baldpate," "The Miraculous Man," "The Call of the Pines," and the "Yellow Ticket" will follow.

At the Iris.

One of the most spectacular, thrilling scenes ever presented on a photographic screen, will be witnessed at the Iris today and tonight, when the celebrated theatrical star, Valiska Suratt, will appear in the Jesse L. Lasky production of "The Immigrant," which was written especially for Miss Suratt by the distinguished American dramatist, Marion Fairfax. It is a Paramount picture.

In this production a gigantic dam holding an immense volume of water, is blown up and the released flood undermines and destroys a large country house in order to present to the audience with an absolute correctness of detail, it was necessary that both the dam and the house be built especially for the occasion. Three times was the dam blown up and the water released before the perfect and powerful effect was obtained. Owing to the size of the dam and the quantity of water which had to be backed up and the repairs necessary it required more than two months of hard work before the picture was secured.

At the Novelty.

"Six Peaches and a Pair" is the odd, yet appropriate title of the top line act at the Novelty the first half of this week. There are six girls and two men in this act which is the musical comedy class. There are four additional acts on the bill including Dix and Dixie, who do a little bit of everything, Margaret Ryan, comedienne, the Raymond Sisters in "An Evening at Home," in which the use two grand pianos which they carry especially for their own use, and Wanzler and Porter in a new line of conversation and songs.

The Paramount Travel Series will give a glimpse of the Great Divide in South America.

children liked it so well that it has not been torn down but is lighted during the dark part of every day and evening.

Only six sick transients are at the Provident association now in spite of the cold weather. It is an indication that most of transients has moved southward to Texas or Louisiana.

There was much more sickness at the building last fall.

The new district superintendent, created by the synod of the English Lutheran church last fall, has been filled by the Rev. Dr. H. A. Ott, who will arrive in Topeka to take up his duties next week. Dr. Ott was formerly a Topeka pastor and will live here with his family.

Invitations are being sent out by the Y. W. C. A. for an open house party which will be held New Year's day. The hours are from 3 to 5 o'clock. Basketball and volleyball games will start at 4. The purpose of the entertainment is to get more young Topeka people interested in the work that is being carried on.

William R. Arthur, formerly dean of the law school of Washburn college, is visiting his brother, C. B. Arthur, at 728 Kansas avenue. Mr. Arthur is at present in the law school of the University of Colorado at Boulder. He will go on to Chicago to attend a law conference before returning to Colorado.

Nominations of officers for the church council will take place this evening at the December session of the English Lutheran church. The nominations will be voted upon next week. The 1915 officers are: The Rev. M. F. Troxell, president; B. F. Younger, secretary, and A. V. Lindell, treasurer.

The meeting will begin at 7:30 o'clock. He ran all the way to the Provident association when he missed his five dollar bill. A 200-pound man left one lying neatly in a conspicuous place after a night's lodging at the association. The officials didn't know whether he was a Santa Claus or not until nearly noon when he almost broke down the stairway coming for his money.

Rollo James Fisher, seven, colored, and much excited dropped into a barber shop Saturday. In one arm he carried a bundle of State Journals; in the other a sack of candy, fruit and a small tin trumpet. "Heads 'o' State Journals, sah—Jews see wot I got, sah! Wab did I get um?" Dean Know, sah, but they's putty nice—putty nice." Rollo James had attended the Elks' Christmas tree party and was voicing his thanks.

Many Christmas sermons were preached last night at Topeka churches. The Rev. J. K. Youngman, pastor of the East Side Methodist church, preached on "Good Tidings of Great Joy," the Rev. E. W. Spencer of the Walnut Grove church, spoke on "The Star of Hope," and O. L. Cook, pastor of the First Christian church had as a sermon subject "Life's Pilgrimage." The Rev. R. P. McPherson preached on "The World and the Use We Should Make of It This Year" at the Central Park Christian church. The Rev. L. H. Backhold of the Central Christian church, used the subject "Following the Star." Tabernacles, scripture, and song illustrated "Good Will to Men" at the Central Congregational church last night.

Christmas was brought to Topeka children by the dormitory members of the Central Y. M. C. A. Secretary George A. Hoyer and H. A. Junk met their guests at Redden chapel and took them to the Central building in Charles Wierman's automobile. Here a Santa Claus and Christmas tree awaited them. Among the children present were: Anna Weeks, Maud Briggs, Jacob Zeigman, Louis Cooper, Edgar Patrick, Ethel Burkhead, Norma Cooper, Edgar Myers, Ray Jackson, Dorothy McMillan, Rowland Goodwin, Frances Nichols, Edward Simmons, Ada Potter, Anna Thomas, Frank Weeks, Oswald Briggs, Mina Zeigman, Charles Cunningham, Arthur Weeks, Add Truesdale, Rebecca Zeigman, Mar Emory, Ray Myers and Helen Cooper.

General Dodge III. Council Bluffs, Dec. 27. General Grenville M. Dodge, is reported critically ill at his home here. It is said that he never has fully recovered from an operation he underwent about a year ago. He is 84 years old.

Don't Be Uncomfortable These Cold Mornings

PENINSULAR Heaters Will Keep You Warm

winter weather is here and it is well to learn the wisdom of buying a Peninsular Heater to keep you warm. Every Peninsular is guaranteed to give more heat and consume less fuel than any other heater made. Let us explain the difference. The difference is to be found. Our Prices are Lowest in Topeka.

COMPLETE LINE OF GAS HEATERS

Weekly or Monthly Payments If You Wish

BASE BURNER—Examine this wonderful heater carefully. See the duplex grate and double heating attachment. Most effective radiating surface. Hot blast tube consumes all gas and smoke. Wonderful heater, for only.

OAK HEATERS

Made of Bessemer rolled steel; clean castings; absolutely air-tight screw dampers. Wonderful heater, 11-inch heavy fireproof, only.

Combination Gas and Coal Heater $9.85.

FOSTER'S FAMOUS HOT BLAST HEATERS

Burns soft coal, slack, hard coal, coke, wood or corn cobs; made of special blue steel that requires no polish; all cast parts ground to fit air-tight; extra heavy cast iron lining 7 inches above burner; hot blast tube consumes all gas and smoke. Wonderful heater, for only.

Laundry Stoves $2.85 Coal Oil Heaters $3.85

See Our Peninsular World's Best Combination Coal Range

When the Gas gets low you don't need to worry about preparing meals. Without any change whatever you can burn wood, coal, cobs or gas.

You Can Buy Any Heater or Range on Weekly or Monthly Payments

Exceptional Opportunities for Best Quality Rugs

Seamless Axminster Rugs, 8 1/2 x 10 1/2 size; quality, $22.95.

Seamless Tapestry Brussels Rugs, 9 x 12 size; quality, $15.50 value—$12.50.

Seamless Tapestry Brussels Rugs, 8 1/2 x 10 1/2 size; quality, $17.50 value—$15.00.

Axminster Rugs, 9 x 12 size; quality, $15.50 value—$12.50.

Royal Wilton Rugs, 8 1/2 x 10 1/2 size; quality, $17.50 value—$15.00.

Seamless Tapestry Brussels Rugs, 9 x 12 size; quality, $15.50 value—$12.50.

Seamless Tapestry Brussels Rugs, 8 1/2 x 10 1/2 size; quality, $17.50 value—$15.00.

Axminster Rugs, 9 x 12 size; quality, $15.50 value—$12.50.

Royal Wilton Rugs, 8 1/2 x 10 1/2 size; quality, $17.50 value—$15.00.

Seamless Tapestry Brussels Rugs, 9 x 12 size; quality, $15.50 value—$12.50.

Seamless Tapestry Brussels Rugs, 8 1/2 x 10 1/2 size; quality, $17.50 value—$15.00.

Axminster Rugs, 9 x 12 size; quality, $15.50 value—$12.50.

Royal Wilton Rugs, 8 1/2 x 10 1/2 size; quality, $17.50 value—$15.00.

Seamless Tapestry Brussels Rugs, 9 x 12 size; quality, $15.50 value—$12.50.

Seamless Tapestry Brussels Rugs, 8 1/2 x 10 1/2 size; quality, $17.50 value—$15.00.

Axminster Rugs, 9 x 12 size; quality, $15.50 value—$12.50.

Royal Wilton Rugs, 8 1/2 x 10 1/2 size; quality, $17.50 value—$15.00.

Seamless Tapestry Brussels Rugs, 9 x 12 size; quality, $15.50 value—$12.50.

Seamless Tapestry Brussels Rugs, 8 1/2 x 10 1/2 size; quality, $17.50 value—$15.00.

Axminster Rugs, 9 x 12 size; quality, $15.50 value—$12.50.

Royal Wilton Rugs, 8 1/2 x 10 1/2 size; quality, $17.50 value—$15.00.